ANDREW JACKSON
HIGH SCHOOL

South Bend, Indiana

With Building Completed,

JACKSON ROAD was extended west to Michigan Street to accommodate football crowds.

IN ACADEMICS it was easy to get behind, especially for a senior with several extracurricular activities and a part time job. Bill Mains finally faces the inevitable.

THE SCHOOL and the community cooperated in an auto check program which helped South Bend become the nation's "safest city." Here Pat Burkhart questions a motorist.

This Was the Year of New Directions . . .

SOMETIMES the plate lunch line did not move in any direction. Lorene Huston waits to pay.

THE SCHOOL PRINTING program got underway as drafting classes printed the first football programs.

Nice Winter
P.S. Can I sing in the Pep bands

THE MARCHING BAND in their new blue and white uniforms added zest to home football games with their smartly-executed halftime formations. Performing at School Field during the Riley game, they were led by baton twirlers Mary Berlakovich and Cathie Collmer.

... And in Every Direction

As we returned to Jackson for its second year, we found that many changes had taken place. Replacing the grassless grounds were green shrubs, trees, and lawns, eliminating our flooded entrance-way on rainy days. Behind the school, where a hilly, weedy field and half-built bleachers were last seen, a completed football stadium grandly stood.

Band and Glee Club members moved from regular classrooms into the new wing specifically designed for their needs. Our schedules showed a broadening in the range of Jackson's curriculum. It expanded to include such courses as drama, music appreciation, electronics, and ceramics, allowing our special interests to be more deeply explored.

SINCE THE AUDITORIUM served several periods as a study hall, pupils made frequent use of the hallways in the new wing, lighted by banks of windows facing an enclosed courtyard.

the Goal Was Excellence

Not only have our buildings and curriculum spread out in new directions, but the student body has increased with the addition of the new Freshman class. Our enrollment has soared to 1,055, bringing Jackson 357 new ideas and interests. Following the pathway smoothed by the all-city production "Around the World in Eighty Days," our drama department produced its first school play, Hart and Kaufman's "The Man Who Came to Dinner." We celebrated Jackson's first "Homecoming," even though we had no graduates to return, and elected our first football and basketball queens. Scientists and musicians excelled. Through all the excitement, always there, were the Old Hickory and Jacksonian, recording the year for all to remember.

FLOORS WERE SHINING everywhere we looked, thanks to Joe Freitag and his night custodial staff.

THE OLD HICKORY won Quill and Scroll award for service. Roberta Ford and Jim Hewitt approve.

Many Jacksonites To Enter City's Annual Science Fair

JUNIORS Adrian Stackhouse and John Trenkner read Vox after lunch to keep up with all the "pop people with the top sounds." Cafeteria companions Daye Johnson, John Traub and Ken Shafer, apparently more concerned with international affairs, scanned a German newspaper.

We Found Friendships Along the Way

SOPHOMORE Hollie Gayman is caught at a rare moment as she rushes to her locker.

In many aspects of our lives, our tastes continued in the same directions. Paul Revere and the Raiders and the Mommas and the Poppas returned, along with the "Cherished" Association, to the top 40 surveys. Their songs pulsed from the Coop and from our radios. Our dances helped release pent-up energy.

Girls with an aura of Estee Lauder or Emeraude wore plum-colored skirts and sweaters, flowered corduroy suits, wide-banded men's watches, pants suits, and suede everything. Boys wore corduroy slacks and suede belts. Cable-knit sweaters and tassel loafers were popular with all.

IN PEP ASSEMBLIES held in the gym this year, fans nosily displayed their support of the successful Tiger football team. Players modestly received their coaches' introductions.

JACKSON STUDENTS were enthusiastic followers of their Tiger football team. Bus loads of spectators traveled to away games to cheer the team on to victory. Among the followers were Craig Hitchcock, Dick Howes, Doug Jessup, Andy Place, Bill Gates, and Rick Barth.

WEARING A PONCHO, Lois Paschke shows Karen MacQuivey mementos of her five-week stay in Mexico. Lois lived with a Mexican family and studied at the University of Guadalajara.

KATHY SHUPPERT, Cindy Schmidt, and Sue Royce find happiness, even in an all-girl study hall.

BANDAGED Ken Ragsdale assumes heroic position as he exhibits first aid techniques.

PEERING through the cafeteria wall are Ronn Kirkwood, Marvin Brandt, and Lucian Krawczyk.

(UPPER RIGHT) EACH DAY Jacksonites, carrying books, filled the sidewalks and boarded the buses.

In January We Were Evaluated by NCA

After a year and a half of preparation and improvement, Jackson was evaluated in January and officially pronounced an accredited High School by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. Curriculum, clubs, library, guidance and health services, administration, school staff, and school-community relations were rated, using the Evaluative Criteria of the North Central Association as a guide. We passed the rigid tests, allowing Jackson's first senior class to be graduated from an accredited school.

As well as an officially complete world within ourselves, we became an active part of the community. We checked the safety of the city's cars in our checklanes, and collected food for the needy at Thanksgiving.

We helped and, in turn, were helped. The Band Boosters, a group of adults, collected needed money to buy band uniforms. Adults in the Jackson AFS Chapter found a home for Juan Jose Reyes, our foreign exchange student, and interviewed applicants for Americans Abroad. Experiences at Jackson and our relations with the community helped prepare us to exert leadership in all directions.

BIGGER POSTERS may not always bring victory, but Dave Mies and Don Bertrand both won.

New Directions in Academics . . .

FOR THOROUGH RESEARCH, nothing surpassed the South Bend Public Library.

(TOP) ORCHESTRA PRACTICED first hour in room piled with stored supplies.

FIRST AID PROCEDURES were part of the health class curriculum. Knowing how to give artificial respiration and being able to do it are two different things, so Mr. Taylor had his students on the floor giving and receiving life-saving treatment.

Physical Education Program Kept Us Healthy

Jacksonites kept physically fit, studying human anatomy and hygiene in their health classes and developing strong bodies in physical education activities.

An olympic-sized pool and fully-equipped gym lured boys and girls alike into our P.E. classes. Nine weeks of swimming added variety to the year's soccer, basketball, baseball, and gymnastics units.

Oral reports, demonstrations, and movies enlightened pupils in Mr. Miller's and Mr. Taylor's health classes. "Sergeant Bruce" reported rules and regulations of driving safety, and representatives from the fire department gave pointers on first aid.

NO FLABBY MUSCLES for Jackson girls. Exercises were performed as part of the daily routine before the basketball, soccer, and baseball games began in Miss Judd's and Miss Dunnuck's gym classes. In the second semester the girls worked on the trampoline.

Four Electives Added in English Department;

Senior English, drama, speech, and journalism were added as English electives, and each contributed to the total life of the school. The drama department presented all-school plays, and journalism provided writers for the yearbook, newspaper, student directory, and school publicity.

To determine community attitudes on the question of Central vs. Eastern time for this area, freshman social studies pupils interviewed 750 adults, and tape-recorded 160 of the answers. Their compiled information indicated a 2 to 1 preference for Eastern time.

U.S. History scholars were often heard chanting such jingles as “Hayes got in and had his fun and then was bounced in ‘81”

They were part of the Hoyer Association Method (HAM) for memorizing presidents and the dates they went out of office.

JOURNALISTS Sue Kennedy and Mary Marsh see their newspaper copy being set by a linotype machine. They visited Ranger-Cook Typesetting Company where the Old Hickory is prepared.

MARCIA TOTH as “Me” tries to convince “I” (Barbara Mast) that since she is in the nominative case, she cannot be the object of a preposition. Others in the cast of the melodrama are Don Wolfe, Bill Gates, and Jeff Witt.

'HAM' Enlivens U.S. History

HISTORY AND ENGLISH LITERATURE pupils alike found the French guillotine intriguing. Marcia Saltzman and Linda Eaton examine this model made by Cindy Schosker.

ANTIQUÉ CANNONS bring history closer for Bonnie Roper and Linda Shoemaker.

MR. HOYER FACES class from his favorite lecturing stool. Trusty map is behind him.

NEW LIBRARY BOOKS filled shelves which last year were empty. Pat Grenert picks one.

Special Events Highlighted Language Classes

KENTON VAN demonstrates why Spanish class comes alive during the holiday season. The piñata is a tradition in Spanish-speaking countries.

THE DEATH OF CAESAR is portrayed by Latin students Bill Witt (Caesar), Dan McGill, and Cydney Holt.

French yule cakes, Spanish word games, pinatas and holidays, Latin poems and special German reports were all in store for foreign language students this year.

French classes enjoyed Catou Christian, student from France, who helped Miss Hartman with the teaching of the French classes. Advanced Latin students translated Vergil's "Aeneid" and other Latin poetry. In Spanish classes, Day of the Dead was observed. In this tradition a family takes a dead relative's favorite lunch and has a picnic on his grave on his saint's day. German classes gave special reports on the German school, economic and political systems. In all the beginning language classes the pupils were required to order meals in the particular language.

After-school time was spent on book work and in the laboratory by ten Jacksonites who applied for the Indiana University Honors Study.

KATHY HUGUENARD, Marilyn LaFree, and Jack Drake discover that happiness is knowing all the answers and security is ordering a Spanish meal in the native language.

AIRPLANE COMING IN for landing with a future teacher aboard. Miss Sopczynski is the pilot—for French students in language lab.

On Slide Rule

PAM POSTLE (left) records data and Jennifer Marks observes as they calculate the percent of water lost from solutions in heating. The class experimented in the labs twice weekly.

GEOMETRY problems were discussed by Steve Saltzman and John Uhrig.

JOHN BUCHANAN took advantage of the slide rule, a blessing to mathematicians—once they understand how to use it.

Or on Stadium Steps We Calculated Problems

Goggles and fire-proof aprons protected Jackson's amateur chemists from bubbling acids and flaming potassium. Biologists explored the meaning of life, probing the anatomy of cats, and peering into the microscopic worlds of amoebas and bacteria. Physics classes analyzed motion, energy and light. They experimented with concepts, making written definitions come to life. By timing students racing up the stadium steps, the horsepower of individuals was calculated.

The visualization of geometric shapes through figures formed of wadded up paper, books, or pencils added clarifying examples to theorems and assumptions in geometry classes. Senior math (college algebra and analytic geometry) and additional Algebra I classes increased last year's math schedule of 18 daily classes to 27 this year.

CHEERED ON by the physics class, Medarda Chizar chugged up the stadium steps to calculate her horsepower.

Home Ec Courses Taught Us Homemaking Skills

Sewing talents were displayed by the clothing classes at their style show presented to parents and the girls' homerooms December 7. Projects ranging from suits and jumpers to a felt wall hanging were featured.

Cooking classes provided the refreshments for most faculty teas and teachers' meetings. They learned the basics of nutrition from several teachers, Mrs. Joanne Bendall and two student teachers from Purdue, each of whom stayed for six weeks.

Last hour, seniors met for the first time to study Family Living. This course was designed to prepare high school students for future life with a family. It included such topics as budget planning, consumer buying, house and furniture necessities, and dating and actual marriage problems.

LISA HELLER (right) makes a last-minute adjustment on the dress which Margaret Megyeri made and modeled in the Home Economics style show for all Jackson girls.

THE UNMISTAKABLE AROMA of breads, cake, and rolls came from the Home Ec kitchen. Cindy Fozo, Sharon Nace, and Linda Emmons remove their finished products—hot blueberry muffins—from the pans and dip them in sugar.

TIRED MUSCLES and broken finger nails all contributed to learning the process of touch typing. Sue DeWells learned to love her electric typewriter.

PAT GRENERT translated the punches in IBM cards to usable information.

Business Curriculum Included Data Processing

IT IS A CHALLENGE for Carol Weaver to taste the salad she prepared.

The range of the Business Department was broadened this year. It took in not only the traditional typing, shorthand, and office training classes, but included part time secretarial work in local businesses for Office Training II students.

Seventeen girls were eligible for four hours of work each afternoon with minimum wages, a grade from Business Department head Mrs. Elaine Schenck, one full unit credit, and valuable work experience for future employment. Part of the office training course also covered reading and interpreting punches in computer cards. Students with a special interest in this work were sent to afternoon classes at Cline School.

MARLENE ULBRICHT learned financial aspects of office training.

Industrial Arts Added DCE, Advanced Wood

Fourteen seniors participated in Jackson's first Diversified Cooperative Education program. Besides attending morning classes, these students held part-time jobs in the afternoon. A DCE class, taught by Mr. Donald Baldrige, and the half day's work earned them two credits toward graduation while giving training for future employment.

Advanced classes in machine shop and woodshop have been added. In woods, students work on desks, end tables, and bookcases. The drafting course has been expanded to include further use of printing equipment. The class printed tickets and football and play programs. A photographic darkroom was gradually becoming equipped for developing and printing pictures as well as for use in offset printing.

GIRLS AS WELL as boys took DCE and worked part time while still attending classes. Sue Woodcox was employed as a sales clerk.

BOB HOFFER learned the basic drawing skills in Mr. Gartee's drafting class.

AMONG THE LAST shop areas to be ready for use but one of the best equipped now is auto mechanics. The boys must master a textbook to their instructor's satisfaction before they are ready to work on cars. Randy Bradley is putting his knowledge to use.

LARRY WILHELM'S project for machine shop was to make a C-clamp. One of the necessary steps was to drill out the inside.

BACK AND FORTH it goes, printing small jobs. They say it is great for Christmas cards.

IN AUTO MECHANICS class Bob Ward learned how to adjust a generator.

Art Classes and Glee Club

EVERETT GRIMMER molds in clay the face of Miss Franci Campi, Mr. Thomas's student teacher.

CLAY HEADS are examples of the creativity and talent of Jackson art students.

MYRA DEEPE was Anne Laurie in the musical "Around the World in Eighty Days."

As most students were still tumbling out of bed, the 60 members of the Jackson Glee Club assembled in their special classroom for morning practice. Under the direction of Miss Ruby Williams, they rehearsed for assemblies and various community programs. The group sang for such events as the Jackson Dedication, the Christmas Assembly, WSBT's Afternoon Show, PTA Council Founders Day Banquet, and Baccalaureate.

Added to the art curriculum this year were classes in ceramics, sculpture, painting, commercial art, and graphics. Art students formed their own heads in clay, designed covers for the student directory and yearbook, carved linoleum blocks for original prints, shaped bowls and vases on a potter's wheel, and filled the halls with colorful art projects.

Contributed to Culture

PREPARING the hoop that opened the La Salle-Jackson football game, John Rozow adds character to the Tiger's head. The art department produced signs and posters to help boost the Jackson spirit.

TIM PUCKETT and Chris Shady are keeping busy in art class, or are they?

Band, Orchestra Played in Soundproof Rooms

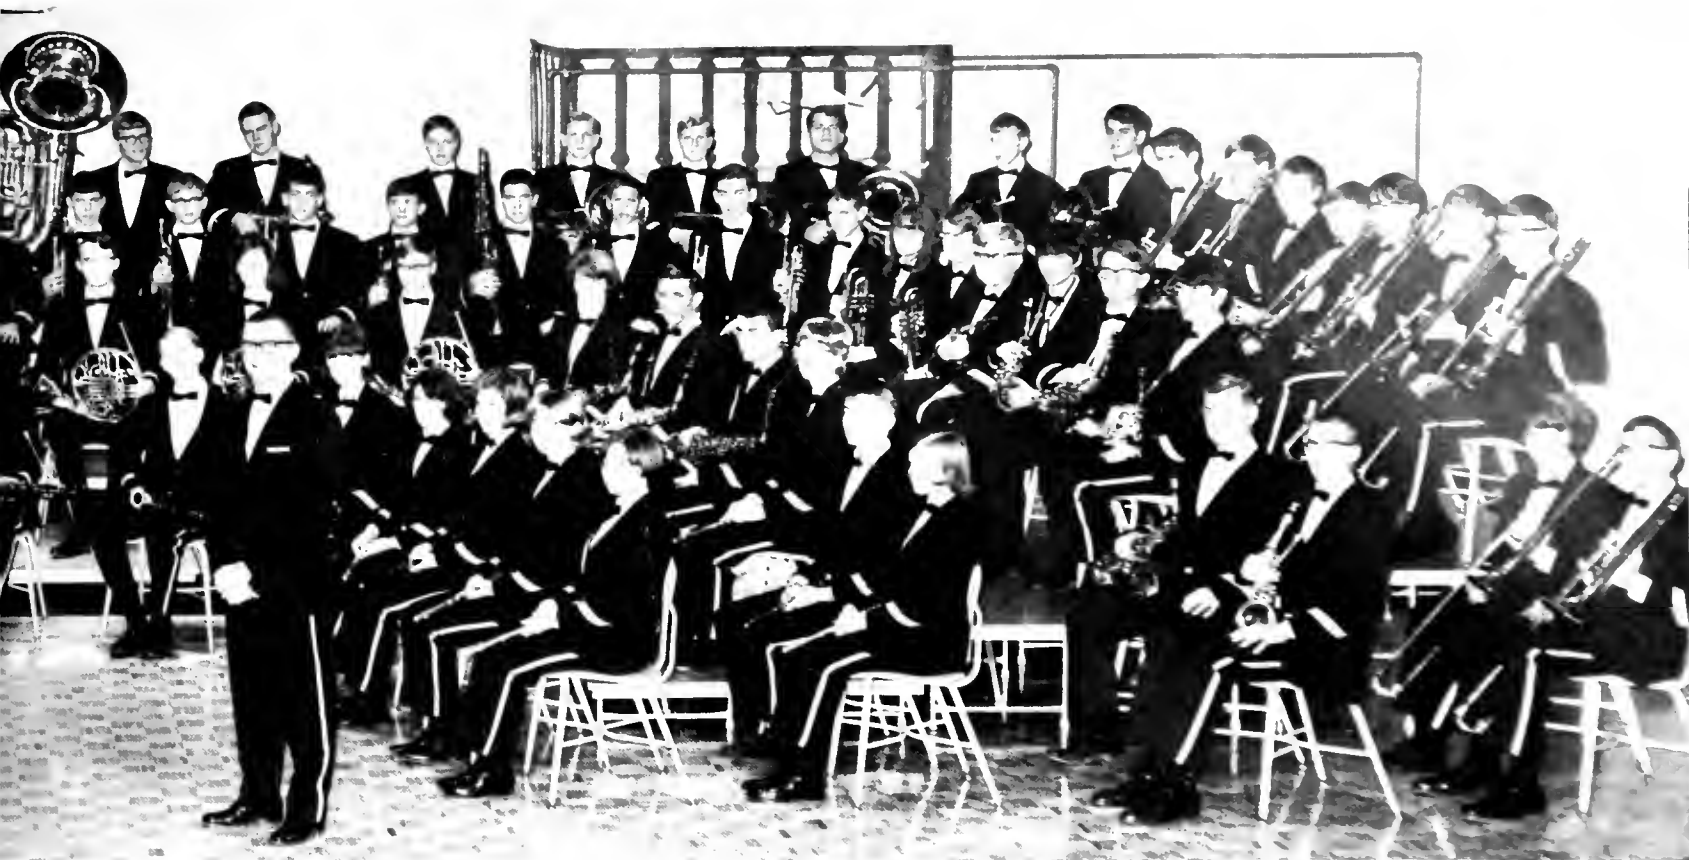

First hour was practice period for band and orchestra. During this time, the band prepared for concerts and the State Band Contest where they received a superior rating in their first year.

The orchestra, directed by Mr. Dean Bentle, had six members in their first year. They practiced for the Glee Club accompaniment in the Christmas assembly and for concerts with the band.

The instrumentalists, along with the glee club and drama students, occupied the rooms in the auditorium wing, last to be completed. Part of the orchestra room was still being used for storage this year.

DESPITE THE CHAIRS piled halfway to the ceiling behind them, Betsy DeCroes, Ginny Colten, and Linda Spalding practice in the new orchestra room.

DRUM MAJOR for the Jackson High School Band, Rick Overgaard, leads the marching band down the field.

LINDA REASOR, assistant drum major, and Jan Ellis and Mary Berlakovich, majorettes, add zest to the performance.

Crowd Filled Auditorium for Long-awaited

Despite a fire on the stage only three days before, the formal dedication of Jackson finally took place, November 6, six months after the date originally set.

The builders presented the school to the holding corporation who in turn presented it to the South Bend Community School Corporation. Among the dignitaries on the stage were the Board of School Trustees, architects, South Bend Mayor Lloyd Allen, Superintendent Charles C. Holt and former Superintendent Alex Jardine, under whose tenure the building was begun.

The Glee Club sang "No Man Is An Island" and the DAR presented a flag. After the ceremony was an open house with refreshments served by the Parent-Teachers Association.

TRUSTEES AND SCHOOL OFFICIALS listen as Dr. Holt thanks the holding corporation.

Dedication

DR. CHARLES HOLT (center) and trustee Mr. John Wagner are served tea by Mrs. Charles Weikel. The PTA provided cookies, coffee, and tea for 1000 guests.

FORMALLY "ACCEPTING" the school was Principal James L. Early.

IT WAS A BUSY SUNDAY afternoon for school officials, architects, builders and financiers, for Jackson and LaSalle Schools were dedicated at 2 and 4 p.m. respectively.

New Directions in Student Life . . .

SUE KENNEDY helped Mr. Myers as student director of "The Miracle Worker."

(TOP) POOL PLAY provided a big splash for Paul Baker, thanks to Chris Griffin.

Senior Diane Fershin Reigned as Queen of

Election of our first football royalty, their selection of escorts, wall-papering the halls with "Beat LaSALLE!" posters, the afternoon pep assembly with the presentation of the Jackson-LaSalle victory wheel, and weeks of Student Council planning preceded the first Homecoming. Shiny Impalas and Corvettes, provided by Gates Chevrolet, paraded both Jackson and LaSalle princesses around the lighted football field. Diane Fershin was crowned our first Football Queen by Principal James Early. Attending her as members of the court were Sherry Spalding, Jane Metcalfe, Sue Dumph, Sandi Moore, Kim Leader, Jill Vervaet, and Lynne Kahn.

CHILLED BY THE BRISK AIR and looking rather windblown but admirable were Homecoming court members Sherry Spalding, left, and Sandi Moore. Escorting them were Jim Olson and John Rozow respectively.

BRIAN HOPEWELL served as crown bearer and Mary Ann Gillespie was flower girl. Mr. Early crowned the queen.

AS A GESTURE of friendship between the two schools, the queens exchanged roses.

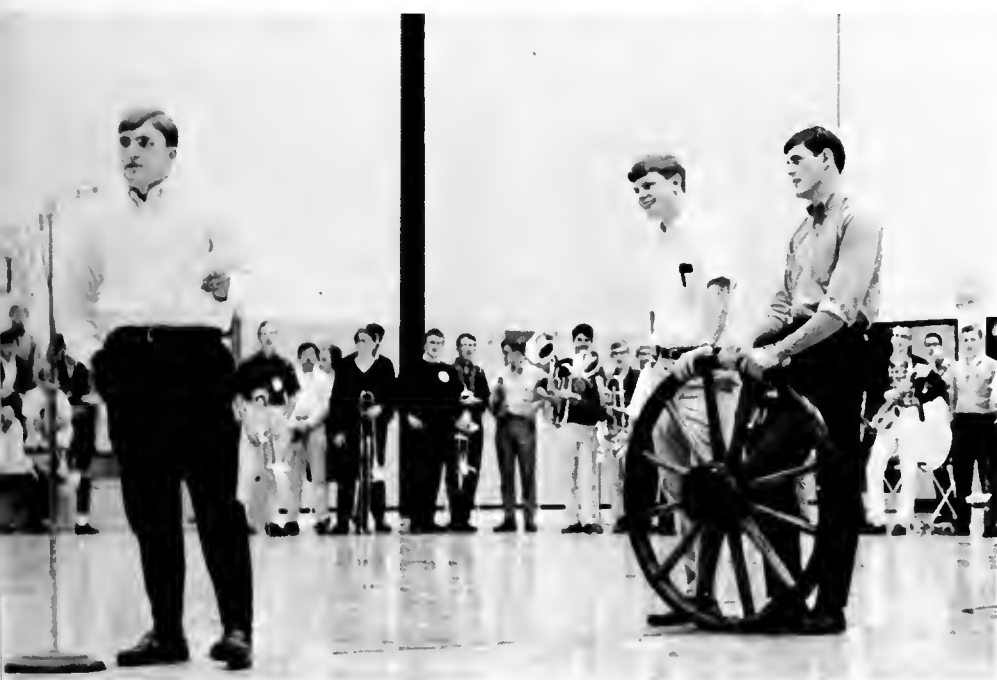

Jackson's First Homecoming

DIANE FERSHIN and Jill Vervet led the royal parade of convertibles.

HAPPINESS spread over queen Diane's face as she reigned over Homecoming.

First Plays Were 'Man Who Came to Dinner'

ENDLESS rehearsals, with constant evaluation, consumed Mr. Myers' after-school hours.

and 'The Miracle Worker'

The drama department bustled with activity in its first year. Under the direction of Mr. James Myers, two full-length plays were produced and Sophocles' "Antigone" was presented to junior and senior English classes.

In November, "The Man Who Came to Dinner" survived burned and water-soaked sets to go on as scheduled opening night. Following months of preparation and rehearsals, (with occasional pauses for snow storms), William Gibson's "The Miracle Worker" drew crowds March 2, 3, and 4. A charter for a National Thespian Society troupe was received in the spring.

"DEAR MR. WHITESIDE" (Jim Powell) gazes at the Christmas gift he has received from Harriet Stanley (Linda Clark).

NURSE PREEN (Katie Miller) is bewildered at the strange way Banjo (Ronn Kirkwood) expresses himself in the comedy, "The Man Who Came to Dinner."

MANY HOURS were spent by Jane Simmons, Don Wolfe, and Dale Anderson, preparing flats for "The Man Who Came To Dinner."

SCHOOL SPIRIT signs were in evidence all year, the creations of Mr. Floyd Kuzan and volunteers from his freshman classes. Poster paints could be whisked out at a moment's notice.

TOPS OF CARS could barely be seen above the snow drifts of the north parking lot.

RELAXING at lunch time was usually the best part of the day for Tim Kulik and Gordon Wren.

IN THE AFTERMATH of the blizzard, attendance checkers found 50 per cent absent.

This Was the

Year of Big Snow, TV Football, the Monkees

THE MONKEES were surely Don Bertrand's Inspiration as he dressed for the Sadie Hawkins dance.

THERE'S SOMETHING about a study hall that makes a guy feel drowsy.

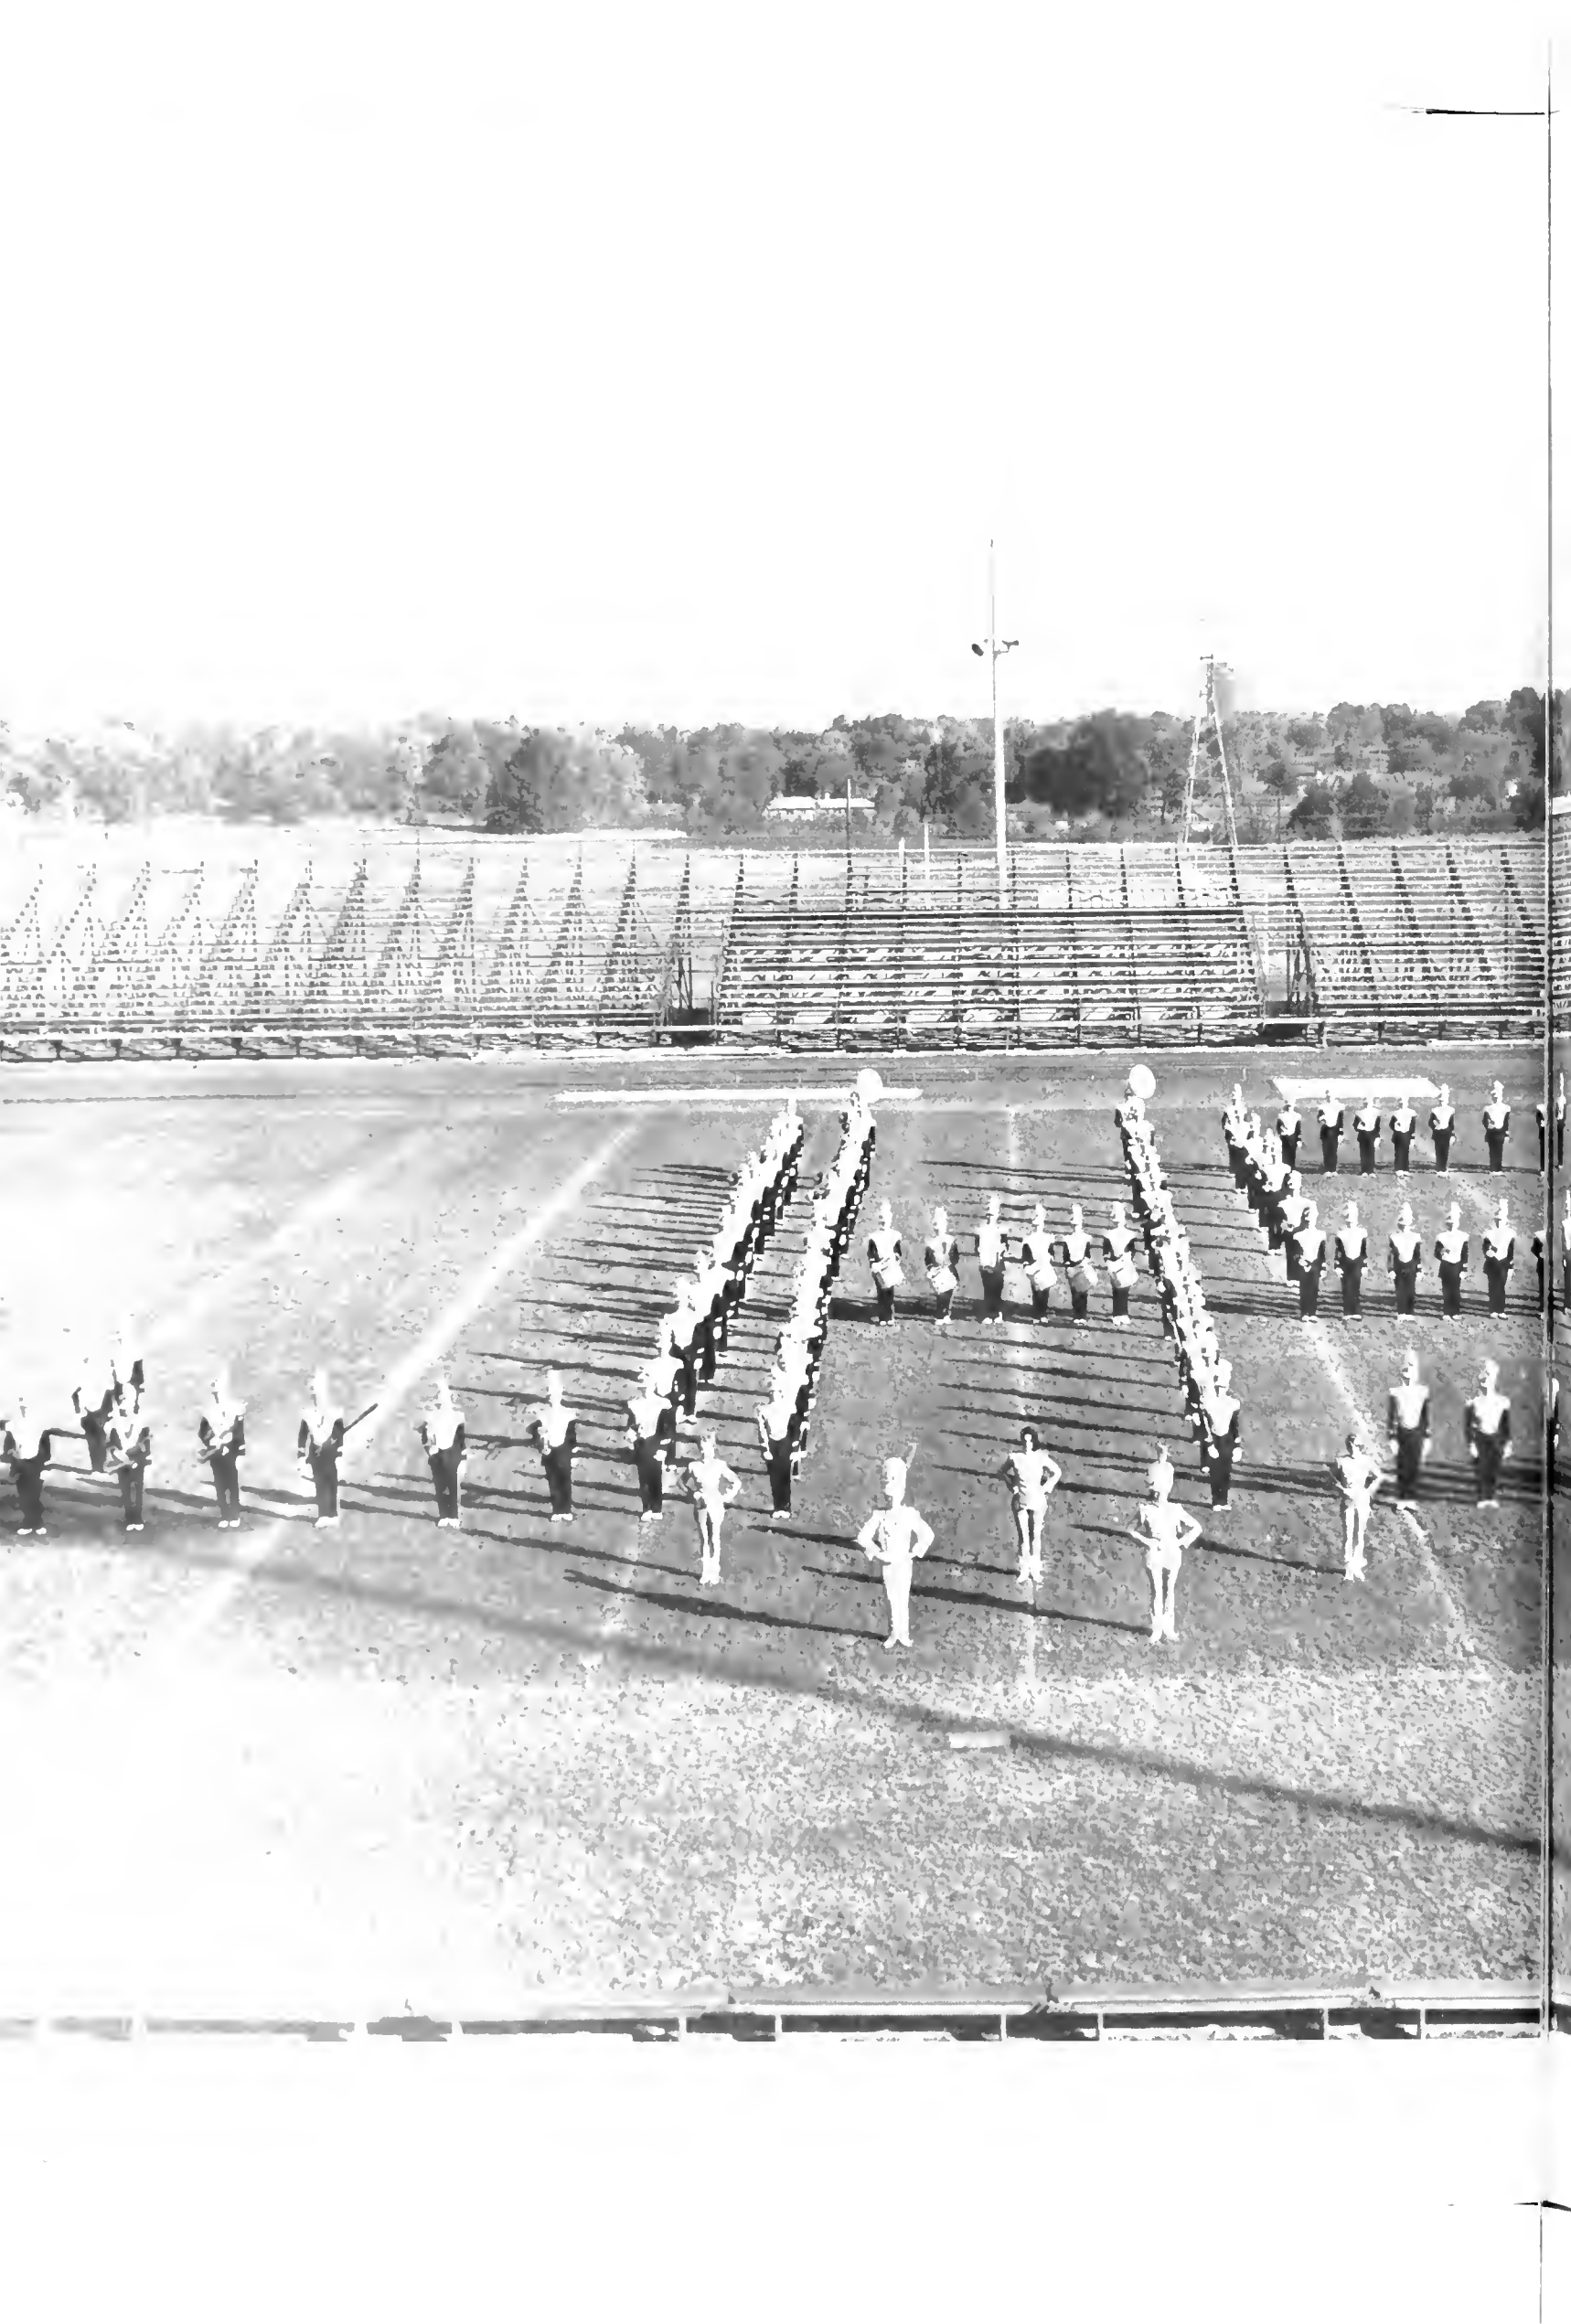

(LEFT) SCHOOL OFFERS many advantages outside the classroom.

EVERY WEEKEND afternoon boys' eyes were glued to TV for college or pro football.

WE WERE ALWAYS ready to be adventurous and try out the "tramp" after school.

New Directions in Activities . . .

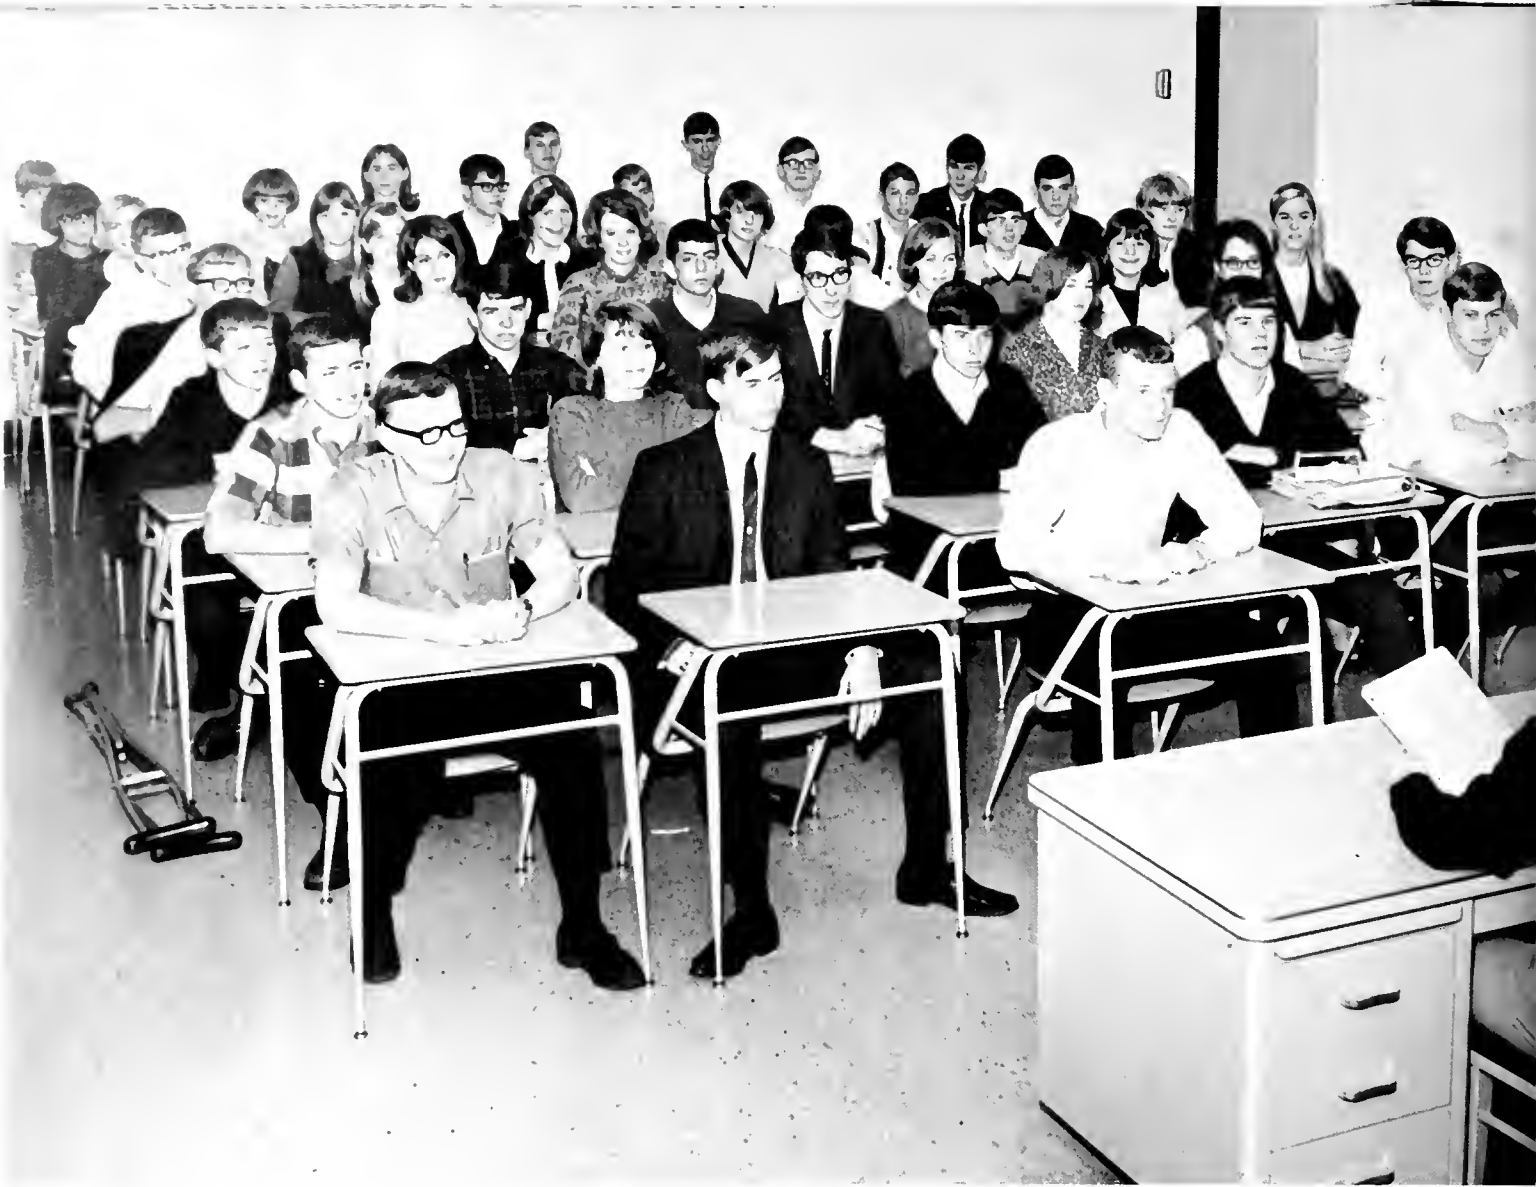

FOOTBALL FANS set out in new directions as they followed the team to Munster.

(TOP) FOREIGN EXCHANGE student Juan Reyes did a charade.

(CENTER) CAR WASHES were the main source of income for many Jackson clubs.

Student Council Initiated Party Politics,

FRESHMEN DISPLAYED Christmas spirit as they decorated trees donated to the school by the Student Council. Pete Ogden adds an ornament.

The Student Council gained momentum this spring with the initiation of party politics in officer elections. Students campaigned for positions on slates, each party slate including a specific platform. Although votes could be split among the party candidates, this system was based more realistically on national politics than our former system, and brought wider participation in campaigning.

Led by Jim Olson before his move to Florida in February, the Student Council led a successful food drive, decorated goal posts before football games, and generally tried to boost school spirit.

STUDENT COUNCIL furnished the goalpost decorations for home football games. Volunteers to decorate goalposts were Dave Mies, Linda Eaton, Kirk Bunting, and Steve Parker.

FILLING THE BASKETS with cans collected by homerooms for the Thanksgiving Drive is Eric Heller, chairman of the project. Baskets were distributed to fifteen families.

Food Project

ELECTIONS AROUSED keen competition. Bill Bishop's campaign calls all good men to come to the aid of their party.

Publications Staff Sponsored Press Dinner,

Editors of the Old Hickory, assisted by the journalism class and the Cubs, kept the school informed every week, even when snow kept half the staff at home. Special issues came out for dedication, area journalism day, and seniors' graduation. For outstanding leadership in school and community, the Old Hickory won the George H. Gallup award and International Honor rating from Quill and Scroll. Nine staffers were members of Jackson's Quill and Scroll chapter, installed last year. New editors were announced at the annual Press Dinner, and journalists took a bus to Valparaiso for a Saturday workshop. Jacksonites were hosts at a similar workshop in January for schools in South Bend and Mishawaka.

ON THE FIRST DAY of school Sue Ryon passes out copies of the Old Hickory.

CUB CLUB: Of 70 freshmen who started, the most determined would-be writers and photographers were still making the grade as Cubs. Front row: Glenn Moses, Karen Bashover, Sue Lehner, Kathy Bella, Lynne Stradley, Teresa Kuhley, Jack Styles. Second row: Jack Drake, Sue Miller, Kathy Thornton, Barbara Siede, Mary Sue Goodspeed, Kent Richter. Third row: Lowell Paschke, Julie Lindley, Karen Burkhart, Cheryl Pratt, and Craig Merrick.

The Jacksonian staff, most of them veterans from last year's book, kept us covered with a photographic eye, whenever we had a party, pep session, or unusual class project. They checked and rechecked names, planned 24 more pages than last year's book contained. They worked every day during fourth hour (with time out now and then for an obstinate chemistry problem), and met the final deadline March 10. Ten of the staff were named to Quill and Scroll.

To aid in accuracy for publications and to serve the school in general, staff members also published a student directory.

SIGNING EACH OTHER'S yearbooks kept everyone busy at the Jacksonian autograph party, particularly Ken Van.

The Audio-visual Club put action into classrooms this year through movies, slides, filmstrips, tape recordings, and records. Sponsored by Mr. Floyd Kuzan, approximately 40 students were trained and scheduled during their study halls to assist teachers in operating AV equipment. Six movie projectors, four slide projectors, four filmstrip projectors, tape recorders, and record players were made available to Jackson's teachers.

After school hours for language club members sometimes included slide presentations and reports or lectures to breathe life into histories and customs of foreign countries. Bake sales and car washes earned money for clubs' field trips in the spring.

Leg accidents and Nancy Jo Warner's moving out of town caused confusion among Varsity and B-Team cheerleading squads. Sophomore Sue Everly had a skiing accident, and near the end of the basketball season Junior Linda Eaton broke her ankle. Pam Seaborg joined the Varsity and the B-Team added Pam Kline and Sue DeCroes. Jan Kennedy was chosen as alternate for the Varsity and Kathy Sowle for the B-Team.

School spirit was helped this year by the formation of the Booster Club. They held a booster button sales drive and sponsored the Basketball Court which reigned at the North Liberty game. All four classes were represented on the Court.

Tigers Were Ferocious on the Gridiron

The 1966 football team won five games, their biggest rout being 46-0 in the season opener against La-Ville. Most frustrating defeat came from LaSalle. The Tigers pushed their sister school all over the gridiron, but two Jackson fumbles on the verge of scoring resulted in Lion TD's. The season's highlight was the 14-14 deadlock with highly-rated South Bend Riley. With the score 14-all going into the scoreless second half, the Tigers' ball control and stifling defense prevented the 'Cats from even threatening. The offense rolled up an average of 206 yards rushing per game, while the defense allotted opponents an average of 88 yards per game. Led by halfback Kim Stickley's nine touchdowns, the offense averaged 18 points per game and the defense permitted only 9 points.

RILEY STOPPED Jackson's strong-running halfback Kim Stickley in the tight duel that ended in a deadlock.

The 1966-67 basketball season was a long one for Jackson and its followers. Getting off to a slow start, the Tigers were not victorious until the fifth game of the season, when they edged Clay 59-57. The next two victories, over New Carlisle and Argos, were the last of the season. Although the team played well, they were usually hampered by one bad quarter.

Zone presses caused trouble for Jackson in the early part of the season, but good ball-handling solved the problem. Inability to get rebounds was another weakness that accounted for Tiger defeats. Jerry Tetzlaff and Craig Marten were top scorers.

One of the bright spots of the season was the success of the B-Team. The team compiled a record of 16-5. These developing Cubs are good varsity prospects for next year's team.

The 1966-67 season was rough for Jackson's wrestling team. The Tiger wrestlers won only one of ten dual meets, and that one, against Portage High School, by forfeit. But the team gained valuable experience under the supervision of new head coach Dale Rems and new assistant coach Steve Herczeg.

Highlight of the season was the victory of junior Tim Kulik in the Sectional. Kulik's victory in the 183-pound weight class was the first Sectional championship won by a Jackson wrestler. Chuck Ullery and Doug Palmer won first place honors for the Tigers in the city freshmen tournament.

DOUBLE RECORD HOLDER Doug Jessup goes off the starting block in one of his specialties, the 50-yard freestyle, in the meet against Howe Military Academy.

Coach Allan Davison's swim team pulled to 11 victories in its second season, only experiencing three defeats. Every record but one from the previous year was broken. New record holders include Jim Olson with a 1:57.6 in the 200-yard freestyle and a 59.5 in the 100-yard butterfly. Doug Jessup holds the times of 24.7 in the 50-yard freestyle and a 54.0 in the 100-yard freestyle. Howie Haines has clocked 2:17.4 in the 200-yard individual medley and 4:15.7 in the 400-yard freestyle. Ron Moore broke a record with his 1:11.8 in the 100-yard breaststroke, and Larry Bussard finished the 100-yard backstroke in 1:09.5. The record for the 200-yard medley relay was set by Dick Howes, Ron Moore, Brian Mickow, and Chris Griffin with a 1:57.6. Craig Hitchcock, Jim Oakley, Bob Mortenson, and Doug Jessup swam the 400-yard freestyle relay in 3:41.5.

Two Tigers, Howie Haines and Jay Ettl, qualified for the State.

SHOTPUTTER Gary Shonkwiler, braces himself for a long throw.

The successes of the track team this spring point out the value of experience and hard work. Although last year's squad lacked depth in several events, it showed plenty of promise for the future. Among those who frequently won firsts were Dennis Lockwood in the mile, Kim Stickley in the 100-yard dash, John Shade in the half-mile, Bill Bishop in the two-mile, and Cliff Daniels in pole vault.

Under the direction of Coach Harry Ganser, the team members practiced diligently to prepare for each meet. The main objective of each boy was to constantly better his own marks. By this program the squad has progressed into one that well represents Jackson high school.

Petty Stars

Jackson's first baseball team, under Coach Joseph Kreitzman, was victorious in ten games while losing eight. The team started out slowly but gained momentum after a close win over LaSalle. By the end of the season, the Tigers defeated such established teams as St. Joseph's, Terre Haute Shulte, North Liberty, and Mishawaka.

To the surprise of all South Bend, Jackson progressed to the finals in the city tournament. The Tigers met the challenges of Mishawaka and St. Joseph, but bowed to the experienced Central Bears 6-1 in the Championship game.

During the season, the hitting attack was bolstered by Dave Petty, promoted from the B-Team, who led the club with four home runs and a .527 batting average. Dennis Parrish was outstanding pitcher with four wins and a 2.88 earned run average.

Custodians, Kitchen Staff and Bus Drivers

As Jackson grew in area and population, the lunch room became a little more crowded; more halls and classrooms in use meant more floors to polish. The custodial staff, cooks, and bus drivers took it all in stride. With the advent of regular gym and swimming classes, we added a fulltime laundress. Each bus driver added a few new passengers, and we all made it to school on time.

DAY CUSTODIANS polish, sweep, scrub, and dust. They are (front row) Oscar Brandenburg (engineer) and John Papp, head custodian. Standing are Amelia Solomon (laundress), Stephen Hollis, Raymond Hojnacki, Edmund Zelinski, and Louise Wynn.

OUR DAYTIME clutter is whisked away by the night eustodial staff. Seated are Royce Arnold and Richard Overmyer. Standing are Kenneth Barber, Joseph Freitag, and Joseph Kopinski.

Kept Us Clean, Safe, Well-fed

THE WOMEN who prepare lunches for hungry students are (seated) Cecilia Kirkley, Florence Gromski, Jeanette Hummer, Bessie Medich, Molly Mastagh, and Glayds Kurzhal. Standing are Lillith Campbell, Sara Feldman, Louise Balint, Mildred Ramsbey, Dorothy Biggs, Peggy Scott, Jane Slater, and Gladys Bruington.

THE BIG JOB of supervising the cafeteria and planning menus is done by Mrs. Eileen Stevens.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS are President Dwight Callantine, Social Chairman Jill Vervae, Vice-president Don Bertrand, Secretary Judy Hopewell, and Treasurer Dave Mies.

As seniors, the class of '67 were granted special privileges. They were the first to wear school rings and Jackson's caps and gowns, and they planned and attended the school's first Junior and Senior Proms. Honors were bestowed on many members of the class. Kim Leader was crowned Junior Prom Princess; Diane Fershin was named as the first Homecoming Queen, and Sherry Spalding was chosen as South Bend's Junior Miss. Don Nuner was selected as a finalist in the Americans Abroad Program. Senior homeroom 218 raised $174.70 in the first AFS drive, and as a result Colombian Juan Reyes joined their homeroom for a year. College-bound seniors took the SAT and Achievement Tests, while others set up job interviews or enrolled in business or trade schools.

Junior Class Holds Prom, Bat Capers, Elects

Highlighting the Juniors' social calendar was the Junior Prom, held in a transformed cafeteria April 15. Making the prom possible were profits from the Sadie Hawkins Dance November 4 and last spring's Bat Capers.

Many individuals were recognized for personal achievements. Jim Powell was acclaimed for his continuing science project concerning characteristics of light in the nebulae of our galaxy. Cathy Kocy was selected as one of Jackson's candidates for Americans Abroad. Five per cent of the class were inducted into the National Honor Society, while Quill and Scroll honored those with journalistic achievement.

The Sophomore Class, Jackson's second largest class, consistently placed the most students on the Honor Roll. The Soph-sponsored dance in January helped build up the treasury needed for future proms, and their spring dance was planned to become as traditional as the upper-classmen's.

Sophomore Sue Everly held a varsity cheerleading position, and many male Sophs earned varsity letters in athletics. A record-breaking 285 pounds of food was collected by homeroom 127 in the Thanksgiving Food Drive. They also raised $16.05, urged on by Senator Pam Seaborg and drive chairman Carol Schaal and Pam Richardson.

Sue Ryon was outstanding in journalistic activities; Gene Andert was publications' circulation manager. Jill Weigand won a state pie-baking contest.

Freshmen Discover Meaning of School Spirit

OFFICERS LEADING THE CLASS were Doug Callantine, treasurer; Donn Reinke, vice-president; Melanie Mandich, social chairman; Sue Kramer, secretary; and Bruce DeBoskey, president.

The Freshman Class, future graduates of 1970, came from rival junior high schools to join in JHS activities. They strived for recognition in basketball, tackled difficult Glee Club numbers and Band solos, and masterminded cartoons for publications' "Cub Club." Greg Nall displayed his skill in the pole vault, while Doug Palmer and Chuck Ullery joined him in leading the Frosh gridders. They practiced for diving and swimming perfection. Dave Young, Barry Gerard, Jim Oakley, Steve Claus, and Brian Mickow swam varsity. Ronn Kirkwood enacted Banjo in "The Man Who Came To Dinner," and others played equally difficult roles in our first dramatic productions. From 8:20 to 3:15, Freshmen learned the fundamentals of fermentation in biology, the balancing of x's in algebra, and politics in civics.

JOHN STERZIK finds that bowling (enjoyed by all people) at CHIPPEWA LANES is a good way to get together with friends.

WEDDING in the family? For the most creative candid and formal pictures, call the ZEHRLING STUDIO OF CREATIVE PHOTOGRAPHY, 514 South West Street in Mishawaka. Miss Lorraine Cohen called on Mr. Gene Zehring last June when she became Mrs. Michael Davis.

Nall Developments Are Assets to Community

The residential area served by Jackson High School continues to grow as new homes are built on the suburban lots near the school. Among the most popular areas are those being developed by Albert Nall: Crest Manor, Fairfax Estates, and Marshall Heights. All these sections have the convenience of nearby schools, churches and shopping centers in a quiet country atmosphere. Drive out to visit these neighborhoods or call Mr. Nall at ENCO, 291-0061, and make an appointment. He has been in the land developing and real estate business since 1950.

GO TO BERGMAN'S PHARMACY, 1440 East Calvert, for cosmetics, drugs, and school supplies. Scott Hewitt finds a large selection of candy for an after-school treat.

AL'S BUTCHER BLOCK sells only choice and prime meats, and its specialty is aged 21-day steaks. Dave Mies agrees with Al's slogan, "Good meat isn't cheap and cheap meat isn't good." To be sure of quality meats, shop at Al's, Ireland Road just west of Miami.

LINDA REASOR and Kathy Shuppert agree that the only thing that beats going south in the winter is owning a DIABLO ROUGE from WILHELM HOME EQUIPMENT COMPANY. Shop at WILHELM'S, 60717 U.S. 31 South, for all home appliances.

FOR THE BEST in eating pleasure, it's HERTEL'S RESTAURANT. Whether for a large meal or snack, go to HERTEL'S, 1905 Miami.

INWOOD'S STORE, 425 South Michigan, offers a fine selection of garden needs, gifts, and chinaware. Laura Murray arranges the many beautiful glass items.

We Look for Quality in Everything We Buy

Pam and Steve Parker enjoy shopping at their father's new men's store, THE LION'S DEN, across from Town and Country Shopping Center. Enter from Hickory Road.

When your automobile needs something new, go to SEAT COVER CHARLIE, 774 Lincoln Way East. Chris Mahnke helps Ted Ruggles select the latest in seat covers.

The 1967 Jacksonian was printed at the Newsfoto Publishing Company in San Angelo, Texas. Yearbooks are not a sideline at Newsfoto, but the entire business.

Every employee is a specialist who thinks, talks, and works yearbooks every waking hour. These people have the newest graphic arts equipment from fotosetter to fotoanalyzer, all specially purchased for yearbook production. A constant training program ties the two together, guaranteeing the finest finished product—a Newsfoto yearbook.

Our thanks are due to The Zehring Studio in Mishawaka for developing and printing our photographs and to Mr. Gene Zehring for taking many group and sports action shots as well as the portraits of teachers. Mr. Ray Dobbs of Crown Studio took the senior pictures, and Mr. Lowell Ward of National School Studios took underclass pictures. Color photos were taken by Mr. Dick Kennard of Newsfoto Publishing Company. The cover of the 1967 Jacksonian was designed by junior Linda Wallen.
